THE

DUBLIN REVIEW.

93

THIRD SERIES.

VOL. X.

JULY—OCTOBER.

MDCCCLXXXIII.

PUBLIC LIBRARY,
DETROIT, MICH.
SEP 17 1888

LONDON: BURNS & OATES.
DUBLIN: M. H. GILL & SON.
BALTIMORE: JOHN B. PIET.

1883.

Ballantyne Press
BALLANTYNE, HANSON AND CO., EDINBURGH
CHANDOS STREET, LONDON

CONTENTS.

PAGE

ART. I.—ON CATHOLIC POLITICS 1

Neither "Liberal" nor "Conservative" side inconsistent with Catholic principles—Examination of great Conservative doctrines: men and their rights unequal: obedience, not liberty, desirable for man: all men not our brothers: political changes, when avoidable, to be avoided: a community of equal units only a horde: government should be by Estates—Church only Conservative when circumstances justify it—How far mediæval political conditions perfect—Catholics partly blamable for present irreligious condition of Europe—What Liberalism and Conservatism have in common—One radical difference in politics—What Catholics should do.

ART. II.—S. FRANCIS DE SALES. IV. HIS DOCTRINE . . 25

S. Francis as a dogmatic teacher, shows the relation of dogma to actual life—He teaches not new things, but in a new way—A characteristic of his teaching is its formal and distinct foundation on the Word of God—Is it true to represent him as attaching minor importance to Roman Catholic dogma, and as being above bigotry—His deep hatred of heresy: which, however, was consistent with great kindness towards heretics—His filial affection for the Church and Pope—His teaching concerning the Blessed Virgin and his devotion to her quite "Ultramontane": as also devotion to the Sacred Heart—The Saint on Sacramentalism—The literary form of the Saint's writings—History of the formation of his style; its special character—Special value of his writings at the present day.

PAGE

ART. III.—FREILIGRATH 63

His birth and childhood—Early poetic manifestations—Is apprenticed to a house of business—Intense colour of his poems unequalled by German writers—Volume of poems in 1838 make his name—Becomes more and more revolutionary in opinion and in his poems—Publishes his "Confession of Faith": its character and effects—Exiled, lives in England, returns triumphantly to Germany—How far he was satisfied with United Germany.

ART. IV.—ADRIAN IV. AND IRELAND 83

Adrian's famous "Bull," hitherto accepted as genuine, now questioned and rejected—The circumstances connected with it tell against its genuineness: John of Salisbury's testimony examined—Giraldus Cambrensis unreliable—Three other letters of Adrian tell against the supposed "grant" of Ireland—Place from which Bull is dated betrays forgery—Evidence against the probability of such a "grant"—Adrian IV. refused to second Henry's designs on Ireland: a true letter of Adrian re-interpreted.

ART. V.—JANE AUSTEN 103

Biographical sketch of Jane Austen—English life in her time—Lord Macaulay's estimate of her writings—Her fame grows slowly: objection of "commonplace" against her themes—Characteristics of her works in general—Analysis and estimate of "Pride and Prejudice"—Absence of religion from her novels.

ART. VI.—THE TSAR AND HIS HOLY SYNOD IN 1840 . . 129

Mr. Palmer's position and motives in seeking Communion at Petersburg—History of the Tsar's supremacy—State of religion at time of Mr. Palmer's visit—State of the clergy—Infrequency of Communions—Russians would not assume title of "Catholic"—Russian liberalism and want of zeal—Main difference between Anglican and Russian Churches and some points of likeness.

PAGE

ART. VII.—THE HOLY SEE AND THE CLERGY OF IRELAND . 148

Irish Bishops wait to take joint action regarding late Circular—What the Circular does not condemn: not the Parnell "Tribute," but the agitation for which it was to be the pretence and its compulsoriness—Three stages of a Papal instruction: consequent difficulty of obedience—Complaints of "An Irish Priest" to Tablet replied to—Speeches, &c., on Archbishop Croke's return proof of acceptance of Papal instruction—The Archbishop's power: significance of his behaviour—Ireland's present cause to be clung to, but present leaders deposed.

LETTER OF THE S. CONGREGATION OF PROPAGANDA TO THE BISHOPS OF IRELAND 166

SCIENCE NOTICES 167

An African Inland Sea—Secondary Batteries—Electric Railways—Art and Anthropology—Artificial Respiration.

NOTICES OF CATHOLIC CONTINENTAL PERIODICALS . . . 173

Katholik—Historisch-politische Blätter—Zeitschrift für Katholische Theologie—La Civiltà Cattolica—La Controverse—Revue des Questions Historiques.

NOTICES OF BOOKS 182

Dr. S. B. Smith's Elements of Ecclesiastical Law—Father Mackey's Translation of S. Francis de Sales—Dom Shepherd's Translation of Guéranger's Liturgical Year—Works of Dr. O. Brownson—Mrs. Chambers' Life of Mary Ward—New copyright Edition of Lingard's History of England—H. Doulcet's Rapports de l'Eglise avec l'Etat Romain—Mrs. Hazeland's Translation of

PAGE

Lacordaire's Life of S. Dominic—Br. Foley's Records of English Province S. J.—Analecta Bollandiana, Tom. I. —English Translation of Hefele's Church Councils—H. Pirenne's Sedulius de Liege—Translation of Pelliccia's Polity of Christian Church—Lady Herbert's Life of S. J. Baptist de Rossi—H. Craik's Life of Jonathan Swift—Dr. Grisar's Galileistudien—F. S. D. Ames's Little Hinges—Miss Kershaw's Gamekeeper's Little Son—Rev. J. W. Vahey's Catholic Priest and Scientists—Rev. W. K. Hobart's Medical Language of St. Luke—Conveyancing Act of 1881—Setuled Law Act of 1882—Decreta authentica S.C. de Indulgentiis—Ussher's Epistle of Barnabas—The Bhagavad of Gītā —A. E. Gough's Philosophy of the Upanishads—Ashton's Social Life under Queen Anne—Dr. S. Davidson's Doctrine of Last Things—J. M. Cotterill's Peregrinus Proteus—G. Bühler's Laws of the Aryas—West's Pahlavi Texts—Rhys Davids and H. Oldenburg's Vindya Texts—Darmsteter's Zend-Avesta—Dharmarksher's Fo-Sho-Hing-Tsar-King — Hudson's Scamper through America—A Son of Belial—F. Noble's Through Stormy Paths—My Story—S. Richardson's Killed at Sedan—W. Seton's Rachel's Fate—Uncle Ned's Stories—Abbé Servain's Life of Father Hermann —J. MacCarthy's History of the World—S. Hubert Burke's Historical Portraits, Vol. III.—Bishop Spalding's Lectures and Discourses—J. N. de Noduwez's Excelsior—Scott's Elementary Meteorology—Joly's Man before Metals—Catechism of Perseverance, Vol. IV.— Brocklehurst's Mexico of To-day—M. Creighton's Papacy during the Reformation—Deschamp's Les Sociétés Secrètes—G. Richardson's Account of some well authenticated Miracles.

NOTE TO ARTICLE ON FIFTY VERSIONS OF DIES IRÆ . . . 243

CONTENTS.

PAGE

ART. I.—THE THREE FAUSTS 245

The old problem of life the fundamental problem of philosophy—And of poetry properly understood—What is the answer of the great Christian poets to this life-problem?—Three of them chosen: Calderon, Marlowe and Goethe—Their teaching conveyed in the interpretation of a typical hero, a "man of men," Faust—Outline of the Faust story: historical foundation for Faust—Calderon's greatness—Who was Marlowe's Dr. Faustus?—How the three poets have worked out the legend: its application—Differences of the Christian and non-Christian treatment of the legend.

ART. II.—MODERN MEXICO 260

The future of Empire with Mexico—Description of the country: its three regions of temperature—The lagoons of Vera Cruz and their inhabitants—Vegetation on the Pacific slopes—The City of Mexico: its position, its unhealthiness, especially to European women, its size—Mexico compared, socially, to Naples—The native Indian population a peculiarity—City and country life: the haciendas—Life at the hacienda—The ranchero, his home and life—Aloe culture: intoxicating drinks—Mexico rich in agricultural products, and in metals—Sparse population: great variety of races: Catholic Indians—Mexico without the Mexicans—Lawlessness, revolution, Church wealth and persecution—Maximilian and his policy—Commercial outlook—The Red Man and the White: Don Santiago Kirker.

PAGE

ART. III.—SOME NEW ENGLISH DOCUMENTS ON OUR LADY'S IMMACULATE CONCEPTION 291

Difference between the editing of Herbert de Losinga's Life and the Proper Lessons of Exeter—These two publications illustrate English tradition regarding the Immaculate Conception—Testimony from Herbert de Losinga's sermons; as also to her Assumption—Strange views of his Anglican editors—Striking testimony of the Exeter Lessons.

ART IV.—PROJECTS OF THE LIBERALS IN BELGIUM . . 306

Present status of the two parties in Belgium—The Elections: why the Catholics failed—Anti-Catholic action of the Ministers—Projected Revision of the Civil Code: M. Laurent's Code—Its radicalism: with regard to marriage, the family, and education — Anti-religious spirit of its regulation of Associations: hatred of religious Orders—All voluntary Associations will become illegal: Communistic measures proposed—The State to inherit the spoils of the Orders: equivalent to State robbery — Bad effects, even if the Code be not adopted—The financial difficulties of present Government—New franchise Bill.

ART. V.—IRELAND IN THE TIME OF SWIFT 337

State of Ireland, social and industrial, after the surrender of Limerick—Swift's personal character and early career—His residences with Sir William Temple—Stella and Swift—Swift's opinions on Catholics, and on the material interests of Ireland—He becomes the champion of Irish legislative independence—Swift's character as revealed in Stella's Journal—"The Conduct of the Allies:" its effect in England—Stella and Vanessa—The "Drapier's Letters:" subsequent popularity and power—Swift's death and character.

ART. VI.—CHURCH DISCIPLINE AND PROTESTANT HISTORIANS. . 370

Essential difference between dogma and discipline: the strange confusion of them by Protestant historians—

PAGE

Flaccus, the Centuriator, and his confusing of them—Mischievous effects in histories of rejecting tradition—Diversities of discipline very many and tolerated: e.g., concerning Lent, Communion, Mass, &c.—Value of the Centuriator's appeal to Greek practice—Inability of private judgment to distinguish discipline from dogma in history.

ART. VII.—ELEMENTARY EDUCATION: OUR POSITION, PROSPECTS AND POLICY 389

An opportune moment for considering our advantages under New Code—Present condition of Denominational Schools favourable to personal influence, care, &c.—Real grounds for anxiety in provisions of New Code—Influence of Inspectors—Most gloomy prospect, however, from action of School-Boards—Three important considerations in competing with the Boards—We should go in for success in school-training and discipline.

ART. VIII.—BEGINNINGS 402

Questions as to the future and God come importunely in sickness—Albanus does not believe; but cannot help feelings on these points, are they founded in Nature?—Certainty of moral truths greater than one's certainty of scientific—The value of intuitions which the human mind cannot get rid of—The source of intellectual life a person, the Infinite.

LETTERS OF POPE LEO XIII. 413

On Historical Studies. On the Rosary.

SCIENCE NOTICES 425

Recent Progress in Electricity—The Palestine Canal—Thought Reading—Magnetism and Conscience—The American Association of Science.

NOTICES OF CATHOLIC CONTINENTAL PERIODICALS . . . 429

Le Muséon—Katholik—Stimmen aus Maria Laach—Historisch-politische Blätter—Historisches Jahrbuch der Görres-gesellschaft—Civiltà Cattolica.

PAGE

NOTICES OF BOOKS 439

St. Bonaventure's De humanæ cognitionis ratione—Mgr. Ricard's Les Premiers Jansénistes—Dr. Dorner's System of Christian Doctrine—Dr. Hagenbach's History of Christian Doctrines—Dr. W. Wickes' Accentuation of Poetical Books O.T.—Dr. B. Fischer's edition of Winer's Chaldee Grammar—Sir Alfred Lyall's Asiatic Studies—W. W. Rockhill's Udânavarga by Dharmatrâta—Sir H. Sumner Maine's Early Law and Custom—R. Ballard's Pyramid Problem—Steventon Edition of Miss Austen's Novels—J. David Chambers' Hermes Trismegistus—Dr. Godet's Epistle to the Romans—Publications of the "Imprimerie Liturgique" of Tournay—The Granville Sixth Reader—Dr. Richards' Scripture Reader—Canon Wenham's Sacred History Reader—Programmes of Sermons and Instructions—The Granville Poetical Reader—The Granville Shakespeare Reader—The Granville Poetical Recitations—Aubrey de Vere's English Poets—Memoir of Father Law, S.J.—Reprint of Caxton's Game of Chesse—Abbé Verlaque's Jean XXII.—Father D. Murphy's Cromwell in Ireland—Leaves from the Annals of the Sisters of Mercy—J. W. Reynolds's Mystery of Miracles and Supernatural in Nature—Dr. Decès's Science et Verité—Sister Agatha—From Darkness to Light—Angels' Whispers and Kisses—Leo—Rosa Mulholland's Wild Birds of Killeevy—The Martyrs of Castelfidardo—The Monk's Pardon—A Woman of Culture—Without Beauty—Percy Grange—Leixlip Castle—Our Esther—Links with the Absent—The Youth's Cabinet—Archbishop McHale's Sermons and Discourses—Sancti Anselmi Mariale—Wilmot's Story of the Scottish Reformation—Father Snow's Necrology of the English Benedictines—Father Coleridge's Return of the King—Burke's Catholic Archbishops of Tuam—Seguin's Life of Ven. Claude de la Colombière—F. E. Warren's Edition of the Leofric Missal—Father Stevenson's Edition of Claude Nau's Memoirs of Mary Queen of Scots.

BOOKS OF DEVOTION AND SPIRITUAL READING . . . 493